Staff shortage causes cut backs

A shortage of qualified workers for the Red Cross Homemaker program is resulting in cutbacks to the service, says assistant supervisor Ruby Way.

The provincial government recently eased its regulations for candidacy for the program, making it easier for seniors to obtain the service. While Way is pleased with this move, it has boosted the demand, causing the Red Cross to attempt to recruit new workers.

The homemaker program, which provides a vital service to seniors and handicapped persons, now employs 22 part-time workers. On average, they make about 150 visits to over 100 clients each week, providing 470 hours of service. However, with its present staff, the program has reached its capacity. Way said there was call for about 500 hours of work last week, but with the shortage of staff, it could only provide 471 hours.

"We can't provide the service if we don't have the staff," says Way. Attempts to recruit new homemakers have found no results, she adds.

Since the government changed the local homemaker service to include the Integrated Homemaker Service, the number of hours of service in Haliburton County has doubled. However, the staff has not grown at an equal rate, she says.

"The sad story is that more service is needed and we don't have staff enough to provide it. Some are going without, or some are being cut back on the number of hours of service."

While relatively low wages have always been a deterrent to attracting new workers, Way says a pay increase was put into effect in April. She says the main problem now is the low unemployment rate being enjoyed in Ontario.

"The high employment is good, but it's not so good for us." She says it is especially difficult to find help during the summer, when tourism is at its peak, and local businesses are at full staff.

Local homemakers find the job to be very rewarding. They enjoy flexibility in hours, and a sense of accomplishment through helping others in need.

Without the assistance that homemakers provide, many seniors or handicapped people could no longer continue to live at home. Homemakers provide basic household management duties, such as cooking, cleaning, sewing and some shopping. It allows people whose only alternative is a hospital or nursing home to continue to live in their own homes.

Although the Ministry of Community and Social Services helps reduce health care cost by providing a less expensive alternative to institutional care, it has put a strain on the established systems.

Previous guidelines stipulated that homemaker service could only be provided upon referral from a doctor. This stipulation has been lifted, opening the door to many new clients. In addition, handicapped people under 65 years of age are also eligible to apply.

For more on the homemaker program, see story on page 2.

Debate drains Scott

It was an issue that left Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott emotionally drained and upset.

The issue was capital punishment.

The vote was taken at one o'clock Tuesday morning.

Bill Scott was among the 127 MPs who voted for the motion to establish a committee to examine the re-introduction of capital punishment in Canada. The motion was defeated, and Canada will continue to be a country where capital punishment is not an option.

"I really wasn't surprised by the outcome," the local MP said from his home in Kinmount. "Everyone in the House of Commons was pretty well aware of which way the vote was going to go. What surprised many was the size of the spread between those opposing the motion and those in favour." The motion to begin the process of re-introducing capital punishment was defeated 148 to 127.

Scott has always been a proponent of capital punishment. The last time the House of Commons voted on this issue, in 1987, he voted for retention. His stand is not without its emotional constraints.

"No one wants to be a part of killing another human being," he commented. "But I believe capital punishment is a deterrent. There has to be some kind of deterrent to stop these people."

The MP also finds strength for his stand in what he sees as the lack of caring that society has for the victim and the family members who must suffer from the loss. "We must think about the victim," Scott says, "and the family. They are often forgotten, gone, lost in the shuffle of concern for the criminal."

Coupled with this, is a court and parole system which Scott says is too lenient. He cites a number of recent cases, one in particular in Toronto. According to Scott, a Toronto man was recently convicted of premeditated murder of his wife. The court sentenced him to 15 years in jail. Scott says the

Loonies get cool response

While some people are calling the new dollar coin a loonie, others are calling the whole idea loonie. Among many Minden businesses, there are mixed feelings on whether they like the new gold-coloured coin.

"I don't like the coin," says an employee of the Minden IDA drugstore. She says the coin is a good idea but that they should still make the dollar bill. "The coins will get too heavy for my purse," she said. Two days after the coin was issued, the I.D.A. was the only store surveyed that had one of the new coins spent there. The I.D.A. employee says for everyday use, the dollar bill is more convenient.

At the downtown Becker's, Karl Hamilton had similar thoughts. "It's easier to count and stack the old bills," says Hamilton. "The coins will be rolling all over the place."

Owners battle bugs

Forest tent caterpillar

Downtown store owners have been kept busy each morning sweeping the bodies of light brown moths from the sidewalks and sides of their buildings. These moths have also been causing a nuisance to homeowners as they swarm around lights and windows every night.

The moths are the adult version of the Forest Tent Caterpillar, which plagued the trees throughout the county this spring. And according to Gary Clements, Forestry Technician with the Ministry of Natural Resources, there is no telling how long these pests will be around.

Usually the moths live for two to three weeks and are all gone by mid July, he says. However, he says there are still a great deal of the insects still in the cocoon stage, indicating the moths will continue to be a nuisance for some time yet.

The number of moths in the area is a good indication of the extent of infestation of caterpillars the county will experience next spring, said Clements. The moths are present throughout the county laying their eggs, and it looks as though next year's infestation will be even worse than the one experienced this spring.

Clements says it's impossible to guess how many caterpillars might be around next spring, though. He says the success of their egg hatching depends on weather conditions. Adverse spring weather could kill off a large number of the caterpillars before they have a chance to do much damage.

The moths are now laying their eggs in small foamy black masses, mainly on the tips of small trees. Once they finish laying their eggs, the moths die off.

Storeowners have been kept busy each morning sweeping up the remains of moths on the walkways in front of their businesses. These adult versions of the Forest Tent Caterpillar have been present in tremendous numbers over the past few weeks, giving some indication of the potential infestation that might be faced next spring.

Program gives elderly an option

In the basement of Henry Webert's home on South Water Street is a grandfather clock. The pendulum, however, is at rest and the cabinet is yet to be finished.

Before Webert's wife, Dorothy, began suffering from Alzheimer's Disease, he enjoyed building these clocks as a hobby. However, all his time and effort is now concentrated on providing care for his wife.

Caring for an Alzheimer's patient is a full-time job, Webert has found. However, with the aid of the Haliburton County Red Cross Homemaker program, Webert is again enjoying the luxury of free time to pursue his interests.

Homemaker Dianne Pratt arrives at the Weberts' home to spend half a day every Monday and Friday cooking, cleaning and tending to other household chores. Webert finds this help invaluable in coping with the constant frustration.

He says his situation would be overwhelming without the relief provided through the homemaker program. "I don't know what I'd do without her," he said. "Between her and the VON nurses, they do a terrific job."

Webert's situation is not unique. Haliburton County has a higher percentage of seniors in its population than any other region in the province. And like many, Webert found himself faced with the difficult decision of either caring for his wife at home or having her placed in an institution.

"I would never put my wife in a home," says Webert. He said his sister in law, who also suffers from Alzheimer's, was institutionalized and her health rapidly deteriorated to the point where she was completely helpless.

"Alzheimer patients feel much better if they are allowed to stay in their own environment," he said. However, he admits it would be an almost impossible task to care for his wife without the assistance provided by the homemakers.

For Lutterworth Township resident James Campbell, the homemaker program is doubly important. Like Webert, Campbell's wife, Beatrice, is an Alzheimer's patient. In addition to this, Campbell faces constant crippling pain from his arthritis.

Neither Campbell nor his wife are able to tend to the daily housekeeping duties. Their ailments have also rendered them immobile. "We're practically parked here 365 days a year," he says.

Despite the difficulties, the Campbells prefer to remain living in their own home. And with the help provided through the homemaker program, this remains possible.

Three days each week, homemaker Shirley Warder visits the Campbells' home to do the laundry, vacuuming, dusting and some cooking. She also does some shopping and makes trips to the drug store, which is a tremendous help to the Campbells.

"I don't know what we'd do without her," Campbell said. "We depend on it so much." He has no reservations in providing praise to the homemakers. "We've had three or four homemakers in before Shirley and they've all been super. Speaking from experience, they don't come any better." He said Haliburton is fortunate to have this program in place.

The Campbells and the Weberts are more fortunate than some in the county who are in need of homemakers services. Because of the high demand for the program, the Red Cross is now faced with a shortage of workers. According to Assistant Supervisor Ruby Way, the homemaker program has been forced to cut back on its services because of this shortage.

On the surface, the job of a homemaker would appear to have little appeal. And perhaps this is partially responsible for the lack of response to efforts to recruit new workers.

However, according to Shirley Warder, it is a very rewarding job. "I really like the work," she says. "I find it more relaxing and I enjoy meeting people. You get to meet local pioneers and sons and daughters of pioneers."

Spending anywhere from three to nine hours each week in a client's home, Warder says she becomes very attached to the families. She says she tries to get on informal, friendly terms right away. "This makes it more comfortable while you are working."

However, she says the greatest reward of the job is the feeling of accomplishment. "That's what I like," she said. "You feel like you're really doing something. You're really helping out." She says the clients need and appreciate the help. "Who's going to do it if we don't?"

With a few more people like Warder and Pratt,

Haliburton will be able to continue to provide its seniors with the viable option of remaining in their homes. With this help, seniors and disabled persons can enjoy more free time to pursue their former lifestyles. And maybe that clock in Henry Webert's basement will finally get the attention it deserves.

Homemaker Shirley Warder mends a torn short for James Campbell during one of her regular visits to the Lutterworth Township home last week. Campbell says the homemaker program provides an invaluable service. He is plagued with arthritis while his wife suffers from Alzheimer's Disease.

Care giver shares ideas

In Fort Lauderdale, Florida where there is a high concentration of elderly residents, relatives of Alzheimer patients have banded together to provide much-needed support to each other.

This is the sort of group Henry Webert and other care givers are attempting to establish in Haliburton County. He would like to see a group of care givers getting together on a regular basis for discussions and sharing of ideas on methods of coping with Alzheimer.

Webert's wife, Dorothy, began showing symptoms of Alzheimer's in 1979. By 1982, her memory had deteriorated to the point where she could no longer be left alone. This need for constant care has placed a tremendous burden on Webert, who refuses to have his wife placed in an institution.

"It's frustrating," he says. "It nearly drives me up the wall sometimes." Webert says he has to try to control his temper at times and "understand that she doesn't know what she is doing."

It is this kind of frustration that can be eased by sharing the common problems with others. An organizational meeting is scheduled for July 30 at noon at St. Anthony's Church in Haliburton Village.

Show opening draws large crowd

More than 400 people filed through the entrance to J.D.Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton Village Friday night for the official opening of the 23rd annual exhibition and sale put on by the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts.

Pacing the walkway in front of the school, a lone piper welcomed visitors with his wailing bagpipes. And inside the school's library, where a sampling of the artwork was on display, the Guild Choir entertained the crowds.

In her welcoming address, Guild past president Joan Hoad said the exhibition and sale celebrates two dynamic aspects of human endeavour, the artist and the volunteer. With a population of just 1,200 residents, the village of Haliburton is able to provide 250 active volunteers, who all work together to make this show possible, she said.

Hoad also lauded Vivienne Hill, co-convenor of this year's show. "(Hill) comes to us with all the business acumen and skills needed in the upper echelons of the Volvo Motor Company and we are delighted to have her," Hoad said. Wendy Bateman Co-ordinator of the Ontario Handweavers and Spinners will be the co-convenor of the show.

In addition to being a sale of arts and crafts, the event is also a juried show, with awards given for various categories of work.

Two special awards were given again this year. The Thilde Nevitt Award is a $200 prize donated anonymously to honour Nevitt who single-handedly organized the show for a number of years in the 1960s and 70's. This award is given for "Best in the Show", and this year's winner is David Alexander Risk for his painting "Morning Mist."

The second special award, given by the Ontario Crafts Council, is a prize of $50 for "Best in Design". This year's winner is Denise Trembath for the beautiful neckpiece she created.

Other award winners at the show are as follows:

Weaving - garments: first Wendy Bateman, second Ellen Good.

Weaving - artistic design other than garments: first Betty and George Craig, second Brenda Cooper, honourable mention Wendy Bateman.

Dorset gets new recreation centre

Approval of a Capital Construction Grant for the Township of Sherborne, McClintock, et al will result in a new recreation complex in Dorset next spring.

Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins announced Thursday that the $214,874 grant had been approved. This amount is to be matched with an equal share from the community.

Dave McDonald, the township's chief building officer, said if all goes well, the 10,000 square foot complex could be completed within a year. He said the final government approval, is the culmination of more than ten years of planning by the municipality.

Initial plans called for a two-stage approach to the construction of the centre. However, McDonald said it looks as though the entire complex can be completed at the same time.

The main floor of the building will house a gymnasium with basketball courts. It will also have a large stage as well as kitchen facilities. Attached to this will be a library and foyer. McDonald said he is optimistic of funding from the county library guild to help with this section of the facility.

Current plans for the basement floor call for squash courts, handball courts, change rooms and three meeting rooms. This lower floor will also accommodate facilities for archery, shuffleboard and a seniors' card room.

McDonald said there is still a good deal of fund raising to be done within the community to meet its share of the cost. However, he said the Dorset Lions Club has made a large contribution and there will be a great deal of volunteer labor involved in the construction.

Eakins also announced a number of Capital Conservation grants for Haliburton County.

The Minden Wild Water Preserve will receive a grant of $11,500 to upgrade the Olympic slalom course.

Wilberforce will be receiving a grant of $44,866 for renovations to the kitchen area of the Lloyd Watson Centre. Guy Skipworth, from John Eakins office, said the present facilities are in need of upgrading to meet fire safety standards.

Eakins also announced that a grant of $2,863 was approved for a concession booth at the Bicroft Pavilion.

Why ban the bull?

Over the past few months, the cry to banish all dogs resembling bull terriers from the face of this continent has reached almost feverish proportions. Judging by the media reports, these dogs, which are supposedly bred for fighting, are ferocious animals with minds bent on killing anything that moves. Every time one of these dogs so much as opens its mouth to yawn, we hear about it in the national news.

While we agree these dogs are more capable of causing serious damage than most, the attention focused on this one breed is just plain silly.

Like any other breed of dog, there are good bull terriers and bad ones. The problem is not with the dogs, but with their owners. Dogs -- and not just bull terriers -- are all too often allowed to roam free. Careless dog owners view their animals as harmless pets, incapable of harming anyone. How often have we heard the phrase, "Don't worry, he won't bite," just before the dog clamps down on someone's leg?

Every dog, from the tiny poodle to the "vicious" bull terrier is more than capable of leaving its scar in human flesh. With this in mind, those calling for restrictions against bull terriers should be asking that all dogs be banned.

Of course people enjoy their pets far too much to allow this to ever happen. Therefore, there should be restrictions placed on the owners of dogs. Instead of licensing dogs, perhaps it might be more appropriate to licence dog owners. Similar to hunters obtaining game licences, a dog owner should have to pass a safety training course in order to own a dog.

Association lauds Kerrio

The following is a copy of a letter sent to the Globe and Mail in Toronto last week:

Editor:

We have noted your story "Tried to hook Kerrio, 2 MPP's reeled out" in your June 17 87 edition (Globe and Mail). It goes on to report how two opposition members were reeled out of the Ontario Legislature for alleging that the Government is doing something fishy with the Province's new angling licenses (revenues).

Far from doing anything fishy, as has been alleged, the Ministry of Natural Resources has developed and is developing Fisheries Management Plans for each District in the Province.

We have had considerable input to the Minden District plan where our Association is located and we can only classify it as magnificent.

Through our parent body, the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations Inc., we have had the opportunity of reviewing many M.N.R. District Fisheries Management Plans (to the year 2000). They are all excellent, very well thought out, realistic, practical with a logical implementation plan.

In our District (Minden), stocking is being improved and extended to additional lakes, spawning beds are being rehabilitated and creel census' are being improved to mention but a few initiatives.

If additional Conservation Officers are required, fine, the more the merrier. They can perhaps snag those who are raping the lakes of lake trout in winter.

So rather than rhetoric and grandstanding, let's give credit where credit is due.

Three cheers for M.N.R. and A fish in every pot!

New tax system meets Canada's needs

- by Bill Scott, MP -

The White Paper presented by Finance Minister Michael Wilson has laid out the blueprint for a simpler, fairer, and more progressive tax system - the system that Canada needs to meet the challenges of today and the opportunities of tomorrow.

Here are a few highlights of what the tax reform package will achieve -- A fairer system, with eight out of ten Canadian households paying less personal income tax, an average of $475 less. Low and middle income people will pay less, high income people who have been avoiding tax and many corporations will pay more.

A simpler system, with only three tax brackets and with tax exemptions and most deductions replaced with tax credits that are worth the same regardless of your income. Many loopholes and tax breaks have been eliminated or reduced. The result will be that 850,000 more low-income households, 250,000 of which are senior citizens, will no longer pay any tax at all, and nine out of ten senior citizens will pay less. A better balanced system, with more revenue coming from high-income individuals and profitable corporations, and less from lower and middle-income working people. The less well-off regions of the country will pay less. Those who made extensive use of tax breaks in the past will pay more tax.

Tax reform will proceed in two stages. The personal income tax reform will come into effect in 1988, which means that most people will see their take-home pay go up next year. The corporate tax changes will be phased in starting in 1988. The move to a new sales tax system will take place later, after discussions with the provinces and consultations with Canadians.

In the personal tax system, the present structure of the federal tax brackets, 10 brackets rising up to 34 per cent, will be reduced to three brackets. Over two-thirds of Canadians will be taxed at the lowest federal rate of 17 per cent. Any income over $27,500 will be taxed at 26 per cent, and above $55,000 the rate will be 29 per cent.

The new system of tax credits will give a direct reduction in the amount of tax you have to pay. This is vast improvement over the present system of exemptions, which reduce the income on which the tax is calculated. The basic personal exemption is something every taxpayer gets. In 1988, it would have been worth about $4,270.

If your income was $20,000, a reduction in your taxable income of this amount would save you $725 in federal taxes. But if your income was $100,000, because you would be in a higher tax bracket, this exemption would save you $1,240 in federal taxes. With the new system, a tax credit will have the same benefit for all taxpayers, no matter what their income. The new basic personal credit will be $1,020 in 1988. This may seem like a smaller amount than an exemption of more than $4,000, but with an income of $20,000, it is actually worth almost $300 more in direct tax savings. And the results are the same for all the tax credits in the new system. They will be worth the same or more to low and middle-income taxpayers than the exemptions they replace.

With the tax credit system combined with fewer and lower federal tax rates, the majority of individuals and

What do you think about... Rejection of death penalty

by Bill Kulas

Well all those MP's who voted against the return of the death penalty can rest comfortably at night now, since winning a decisive vote in the House of Commons last Tuesday night.

The vote was fairly close, considering all three party leaders, Mulroney, Turner and Broadbent were against the return of capital punishment. The final vote was 148 against and 127 for the return of the death penalty.

Most of Western Canada's M.P.'s and a great many from Ontario including local M.P.'s such as Bill Scott, Victoria-Haliburton, Stan Darling, Parry Sound-Muskoka, Paul Dick, Lanark-Renfrew-Carleton, Bill Domm, Peterborough, Doug Lewis, Simcoe North, and John Ellis, Prince Edward-Hastings all voted yes. The majority of Quebec M.P.'s voted no. Liberal Warren Allmand was quoted as saying that "in Quebec, we've never had that deep rooted redneck sort of attitude that you find in some parts of the West or Ontario."

Certainly lawyers such as Eddie Greenspan and some of his cronies are jubilant. Defending criminals, especially murderers, is big business and makes for great front page news.

Although the death vote issue is dead, some good may have come out of the whole debate. One of the reasons why there is so much public support for capital punishment is because the public does not have much respect for the criminal justice system. When a judge hands out 10 or 12 years sentences to a criminal and that criminal is released in 2 to 3 years, something is definitely wrong.

The justice system is in desperate need of immediate reform. The courts, the parole system, the prisons all need to be reviewed and shaken up. Canadians are fed up with hearing about horror stories. Enough is enough! What do you think?

Urges trip to Highlands

- by John Eakins, MPP -

As we head into the summer months, many of you will be travelling throughout Ontario and across the country. Hopefully, many of you will take the time, as I do, to visit parts of Haliburton and Victoria Counties.

The Kawarthas and the Haliburton Highlands feature some of Ontario's most beautiful scenic areas. In addition, during the next two months, many communities will be featuring special events.

In Fenelon Falls, The First Annual Kawartha Challenge will be held. This hot air balloon festival promises to be an exciting event which will attract participants and spectators from as far away as California.

Another almost new event is the Bluegrass Festival in the Haliburton Highlands. This event is being staged for the second year in a row and I am confident this festival will continue to grow.

One of the oldest and largest events to be produced in Victoria-Haliburton will be the Annual Ontario Open Fiddle and Step Dance contest. Each year thousands of visitors flock to the Bobcaygeon-Verulam Community Centre to be entertained by some of the best fiddlers and step dancers from Ontario and Quebec.

I am pleased that my Ministry of Tourism and Recreation will be financially assisting all three events because they contribute greatly to the ever growing tourism industry in our area.

While I mention only three events, there are many more events organized throughout the Counties of Haliburton and Victoria.

I urge you to get out and take a trip through the Highlands and the Kawarthas. It's often true that while there are many beautiful areas to visit in our country, indeed around the world, we often forget what's in our own backyard. In other words, I'll match the scenery and hospitality in Victoria-Haliburton to anything, anywhere.

I hope you and your family have a safe and happy summer.

The heavens gave way to rain as the congregation left the church June 29 after a special service to mark the one hundredth anniversary of St. Peter's Church as a congregation. The church, overlooking Maple Lake, was filled for the special service.

Stricter parole will result

man could be out on the street on parole in two and a half years. "Does that make sense?" the MP asks.

He predicts that one of the results of the votes will be a tightening of parole procedures to ensure that individuals convicted of serious crimes do not have access to an early release. He also expects the courts to be more strict in sentencing these type of criminals. "If these bodies do not respond themselves, there will be legislation to ensure it happens," Scott predicted.

"Scott's stand on capital punishment is supported by his constituents. Earlier this year he circulated a survey throughout the riding asking for individuals to indicate their opinions on various aspects of the issue. The MP was overwhelmed by the response.

"We mailed out 38,000 to 40,000 survey sheets across the riding," Scott explained. "17,000 of these were returned. Of these, 85% indicated they favoured the return of Capital punishment."

Scott wasn't surprised so much by the contents of the surveys. After being an MP for this riding for many years, he has a good understanding of how the voters in the constituency feel about key issues. However the size of the return was what took him by surprise. He pointed out that other ridings with more than two and a half the number of constituents received fewer responses than his office did.

"And we counted every one," Scott said. "I had to assign several members of my staff to sort through all the responses after the surveys started to flow in."

According to the MP, the vote last week will be the last Canadians will see and hear about capital punishment for a long time to come. "The subject will never come up in the House of Commons again," he said. "Unless there is some major catastrophe, the issue is not one the House will ever have to deal with again."

Acid rain report

The following report on recent rainfalls was gathered at the Ontario Ministry of Environment Acid Rain testing laboratory in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada. Three precipitation events were recorded in the latest reporting period:

- on June 18, 2 mm of rain, with a pH reading of 3.8, the rain was traced from Michigan and southern Ontario.

- June 25, 4 mm, pH 3.9, New York, Pennsylvania and southern Ontario.

- June 27, 4 mm, pH 4.7, from Wisconsin, Michigan and Lake Huron.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Red Cross wants your blood

The Haliburton chapter of the Red Cross is out for blood.

After last year's successful blood donor clinics, the Red Cross is once again setting up shop at the Haliburton Legion on July 14 between 2 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to help meet the need.

Last year's clinic was the first this area had seen in close to a decade. Yet, according to chairman Jim Holmes, it was a great success with 242 donations. He is anticipating a greater response this year and is hoping to surpass 300 donors.

Judging by the response to the donor cards distributed at the Haliburton Home Show in June, this goal should be met. More than 140 donor cards, which indicate a willingness to give blood, were signed this year, he said. Only 26 of these matched cards from last year, indicating a great number of people are willing to donate.

Holmes said the Red Cross will be contacting those who have signed a donor card this week to encourage them to get out to the clinic.

People who will be donating blood are encouraged to eat a good meal prior to the clinic. However, donors should avoid taking any medication because it could result in the blood not being accepted.

Two men charged

Police have charged two Haliburton area men with forcible entry following an incident June 25 at a residence on Harburn Road.

According to the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, two individuals kicked in a door at a home on the Harburn Road and forced their way into the residence.

Scheduled to appear in provincial court August 5 charged with the offense are Wayne Couling, 35 and Wilfred Lyle Bacon, 32.

Constable Brian Sachs is the investigating officer.

Boat fire

A 19 year old Etobicoke man received minor burns to his arms after a boat he was piloting across Kawagama Lake caught fire. The incident occurred June 27.

Mark Sindrey was operating a 17 foot, J Craft with a 115 h.p. Mercury motor when the battery tipped over. The terminals made contact with the metal gas tank and a fire ensued.

The matter was investigated by Constable Gary Chapman.

Thefts

The increase in the number of summer residents has resulted in an equal increase in thefts reported to the Minden detachment.

The following items were reported stolen during the last week in June:

- from Clement Lake, a blue and beige True tent trailer.

- from Lucy Lake, a Timberline nylon tent.

- from North Kashagawigamog Road, a Canadian flag.

- from the premises of Haliburton Lakeshore Boat Repair, torches, gauges and hoses.

- from Kennis Lake, a hunting knife and quantity of record albums.

- from the Minden coin wash, a ladies white purse.

- from the Beaconbrook Hotel in Haliburton, a green leather jacket and wallet.

Hustlers boost record

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers raised their record to 9-1 with two big wins last week to take over sole possession of first place.

On June 28 the Hustlers travelled to Janetville for a rare Sunday afternoon game. Jack Snell was on the mound tossing a three hitter for a 6-0 win. Greg Newell slammed out a triple and a double and Andrew (The Newf) Burk hit his first home run of the year to help Minden to their eighth win of the year.

On Thursday night at home the Hustlers took on the Haliburton Juniors. Rick Hartwick was on the mound for the locals, pitching his first game in who knows how many years. Over four innings he gave up only two hits, no runs and struck out four batters before being relieved by Brian Shaw who struck out four batters as the Hustlers downed the Haliburton Legion Juniors 11-0.

This was a lot closer game than the score might indicate as the Juniors held the locals to just two runs over the first four innings. Big guns at the bat for the Hustlers were Bob Johnston with two doubles and a triple, Rick Hartwick and Andrew Burk with a double and two singles each.

The Hustlers will not have a home game this week as they travel to Woodville on Thursday night, then will take in the big Harcourt tournament on the weekend, then will be back home for a game on Thursday July 16, see you there.

Canada Day in Haliburton Village provided an opportunity for residents and visitors to explore the many historic sites to be offered. A walking tour of the village was arranged in the morning and many business owners were dressed in period costume for the event. This covered wagon was one of the attractions along the route.

Dixie Lee downed 5-0

by Jim Milne

The Dixie Lee Soccer Team lost 5-0 to a powerful Bracebridge Centennial team in Muskoka District soccer league play Sunday, June 28.

The team played well but didn't have the manpower to hold off their opponents. A number of regular players were absent and there were no spares.

The starting eleven were simply worn out.

Bracebridge was ahead 1-0 at the end of the half, although the score could have been tied. Hans Walter for Dixie Lee hit the post with a penalty shot just at the end of the half. Dixie Lee held out almost to the middle of the second half, but as fatigue set in, four goals went in at shorter intervals.

This Sunday (July 5) the team played the Gravenhurst Spartans. As many as four regular players should have returned to the team. The Spartans are the only team Dixie Lee have not yet played in the nine team league. In their previous seven games, Dixie Lee have two wins, and a tie for five points. They have scored 16 goals while giving up 19.

The next home game will be at home in Minden against Orillia City on Sunday, July 12 at 1:00 p.m. In their previous encounter, Orillia won a very closely played game 2-1. Perhaps playing at home with new uniforms and a full team Dixie Lee will come out on top. The team will practice in Minden at 6:30 Wednesday, July 8.

Grant reflects derby success

Another annual event in the Highlands has benefitted from a grant through the provincial ministry of Tourism and Recreation program Destinations East.

The Minden Sled Dog Derby will receive a grant of $11,900 to assist in the operation of the 1988 race. The grant was announced last week by Tourism Minister, Victoria - Haliburton MPP John Eakins. "I am pleased my ministry can participate in this worthwhile project," Eakins said.

Co-ordinator of the annual race, Val Lougheed said she and her committee were extremely pleased with the support the province has shown for the race. "The commitment of funds through the Tourism Ministry is a solid indication that the races have become an important element in the area's winter attractions. We are grateful for that backing." The race, held on the second weekend of January, also receives financial support from area businesses, the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden and a major commitment of $15,000 from its sponsor, the Martin Pet Food Company of Elmira.

According to Lougheed, the provincial funds will be used to purchase items to assist in the smooth operation of the event. As well, a major portion of the grant has been earmarked for advertising and promotion. Lougheed said she expected this winter's event will attract a substantially larger crowd of spectators as a result of increased expenditure on promotion made possible by the Destinations East grant.

The Minden Sled Dog Derby will be held January 9 and 10, 1988.

Reform means reduced taxes

families pay less tax. For example, a typical family of four with an income of $30,000 will pay about $550 less in federal and provincial income taxes. A typical elderly couple with an income of $25,000 will pay about $650 less. The low rates and richer credits are balanced by a reduction of special tax preferences.

The capital gains exemption will stay at the present level of $100,000, although the full $500,000 will be available for farm property and small business shares. The rules for investment losses will be tightened, and the inclusion rate for capital gains will increase so that the effective tax rate will be about the same as it is now. The dividend tax credit rate will be reduced in line with the new lower corporate tax rates. The result of these base-broadening measures is that the tax burden will be more evenly spread between wage and salary income and investment income.

On the corporate side, the same principles of lower rates and a broader tax base apply. Profitable corporations will pay more tax. The tax burden will be more even between different industries. And tax planning considerations will be secondary to sound investment decisions based on the marketplace and job creation. Canadian companies will be in a better position to compete internationally, especially in a freer trade environment.

The result will be that corporations will contribute more to government revenues - $5 billion more over the next 5 years. And the effective tax rate will be more even between industries. This means a decrease for such sectors as agriculture, forestry, oil and gas and trade, and an increase for financial institutions, insurance and real estate. More profitable corporations will pay tax. And the tax they pay will more accurately reflect their ability to pay tax, instead of how clever their accountants and lawyers have been.

The new tax system will recognize the important role of agriculture in Canada. The $500,000 capital gains exemption for farm property will continue. New rules will increase the certainty about the tax treatment of farm losses. And on the corporate side, farming, fishing and logging will have the lowest average tax rate of any sector.

The contribution of the small business sector is also recognized. The small business corporate tax rate will drop to 12 percent. And the capital gains exemption for shares in small businesses will rise to $500,000 in 1988, two years ahead of schedule.

The third part of the tax system is the federal sales tax. The present system is fundamentally flawed, and it must be replaced. It costs us more than any of us realize, in dollars, in lost jobs, in lost trade opportunities and lost economic efficiency. The government will replace the current manufacturers sales tax with a new sales tax system.

The White Paper sets out three different approaches to replacing the present system, in the second stage of tax reform. The new system will be fairer for low and middle-income taxpayers. This means a significant enhancement and extension of the present refundable sales tax credit, which will more than offset the impact of the new sales tax on low-income Canadians. It will be paid on a regular basis, and in advance. It also means the removal of the personal and corporate surtaxes, and further income tax cuts for middle-income taxpayers.

The new sales tax will be part of a balanced approach to raising revenue to fund important government programs. Tax reform will be revenue neutral. It is not a revenue grab or a windfall.

To further protect lower-income Canadians from the impact of these changes, the refundable sales tax credit will be increased to $70 for adults and $35 for children under 18.

Most Canadians will pay less tax. In Ontario, 4.1 million people will benefit and 295,000 more will not have to pay any tax at all. Some are being asked to pay more because of the reduction of tax preferences. But these changes reflect the goals of greater fairness and competitiveness, and they are being phased in over time.

There will be more information on tax reform available soon in most shopping malls and supermarkets. The toll-free information line is 1-800-267-6638.

The tax reform package will be judged on whether we have given our senior citizens more peace of mind; whether we have given those in the greatest of need a fairer and reduced tax burden; whether those that should pay more, do pay more; whether we give our youth a greater sense of opportunity and hope; whether we all have a greater incentive to try harder, to build our nation together, and to have greater freedom to enjoy the fruits of our labour. I believe that we have met these tests.

Denna Lake cottagers meet

submitted

The Denna Lake Cottage Association held its annual meeting on June 28 at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. R. King.

The meeting was called to order at 1:20 p.m. by President Norm Gemmell. The Secretary's report was read by Pat Bradburn, and accepted. The Treasurer's report was given by Fran Fallis. At this point, Constable Mike Maybee was introduced, as our guest speaker. He showed very informative slides and a good presentation of boating safety, snowmobiling safety, cottage security and not least of all drinking while driving, boating or snowmobiling. He was thanked by President N. Gemmell.

A one minute silence was then observed for one of our members, Jim Hildreth.

A report on water level was given by Vice President Russ King, in absence of dam inspector Jack McIsaac.

Doris Hildreth then told us of a seminar she attended in Toronto on acid rain, etc. Denna Lake was found to be clear of acid rain. Doris is now in the process of testing our lake with the Secchi disc.

The annual lake swim is to be July 5.

The Regatta was planned for August 1 and a committee was formed to assist our Social Director Daisey Downs.

The annual corn roast to be held September 5, in conjunction with a golfing tournament.

It was mentioned that fishing licences be purchased for adults taking part in the sport.

Dues for the year were then taken. The meeting adjourned at 3:15 p.m. The President thanked Mr. and Mrs. King for having the meeting.

Coins still a novelty

However, he says the coins will be good for vending machines. One of the things Hamilton wonders about the coins is, "when will they be used more?" Although most businesses feel the weekend will bring more out, Hamilton is unsure. "I think what's happening here is that people are holding on to them. They're still a novelty."

The eleven sided coin, which depicts a loon swimming in front of an island, was released June 30 and has already found a home in most businesses. Most modern cash registers are built with five banks for bills and five for coins. Since pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters were previously the only frequently used coins, one of the banks usually remained vacant. Now the loonie has taken up residence there.

Katie Perry, a cashier at Stedmans in Minden says she finds the new coins attractive and easier to handle. "They're different. I like something different," she says. Perry says there hasn't been any customers come in with one yet but they went and got some from the bank to give away as change. She thinks the weekend will bring in a lot more.

Whether they like it or not, the people of Minden do seem interested by the new dollar. Marjorie Peacock of the Bank of Commerce in Minden says there was quite a number of people come into the bank June 30 requesting the new coin. She says about 50 have been in so far. Peacock, who has to work with money all the time says for her job, the new coins are great. "They won't get dirty and mutilated like the bills," she says, holding her ink-stained hands out. She says the reaction so far has been positive by the people though a lot have said it will take a while getting used to them.

Well you better get used to them. With the government issuing millions more of these coins every week, they hope to completely have the one-dollar bill out of circulation within the next couple of years.

Everett and Ethel Upton of Eagle Lake marked their fiftieth wedding anniversary June 17. The couple were honoured by friends, relatives and neighbours at an open house held at the Zion United Church in Carnarvon, June 14. Those who were unable to attend sent greetings or called the couple on the special occasion. Helping to mark the occasion were, from the left, daughter-in-law Maria and son Jack, Ethel and Everett, and daughter Betty and her husband Jim Thorne.

Pilot sites for one-stop access

The Haliburton County Information Centre has been given permission to print a very important news release from the Minister of Senior Citizens' Affairs, Ron Van Horne.

June 11, 1987

Minister for Senior Citizens' Affairs Announces One-Stop Access Sites

Toronto - The Minister for Senior Citizens' Affairs, Ron Van Horne, today, announced five pilot sites for One-Stop Access, a bold new approach to providing community health and social services to senior citizens.

The five pilots will be located in Huron County; the District of Cochrane; the Regional Municipality of Waterloo; the Borough of East York in Metro Toronto; and the counties of Prescott and Russell, and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. The initial cost for introducing the pilots is estimated at over five million new dollars.

"In consultation meetings across the province, senior citizens have repeatedly told me that what they want most is to remain in their own homes," said Mr. Van Horne.

"But many encounter difficulties in obtaining necessary services because the service system is not sufficiently developed and delivery is fragmented and inadequately co-ordinated. Seniors and their families find themselves going from agency to agency in search of the proper service. In many cases, their needs are never fully met or properly assessed."

The One-Stop pilots will be a single point of access to a co-ordinated and enhanced range of community health and social services. In some pilot communities, the range of services may be expanded and existing services enriched.

Pilot projects will be able to provide appropriate functional assessment and assume responsibility for bringing community services to senior citizens in their own homes.

"In recognizing that local needs vary from community to community, each of the five pilots will develop its own model within the context of provincial criteria," said Mr. Van Horne.

In each site, responsibility for managing and delivering One-Stop Access will be vested with a designated local authority.

Five pilot projects will be implemented in two phases. In this fiscal year pilots will be established in the Regional Municipality of Waterloo, in Huron County, and in the District of Cochrane. In fiscal 1988-89, pilots will be introduced in the Borough of East York and in the counties of Prescott and Russell and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

"To facilitate this second phase, I am announcing today on behalf of the Minister of Community and Social Services that the Integrated Homemaker Program will be introduced this year into East York and the counties of Prescott and Russell, and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry," said Mr. Van Horne, adding that each pilot will be fully evaluated.

While One-Stop Access will primarily serve the needs of the elderly, it will also benefit other population groups such as disabled persons who are now eligible for Home Care, and the Integrated Homemaker Program.

In making the announcement to the Legislature, the Minister thanked his colleagues the Minister of Health, the Minister of Community and Social Services, and the Minister Responsible for Disabled Persons, for their cooperation and assistance in developing and implementing One-Stop Access.

Anyone wishing to comment on the news release, please send your letter to the Haliburton County Information Centre, Box 862, Haliburton, Ontario K0M 1S0, we will be most happy to forward your message to Mr. Van Horne. Well Folks, hope everyone is enjoying the nice weather.

Our afternoon tea was served by the Gelert ladies and it was lovely. They had a very nice birthday cake along with a lot of other goodies. Birthdays for June from here were Ina McGuire, Winnie Barnum, Nin Stutt, Lola Prentice, Jean Taylor and Ada Lewis.

Our service Sunday evening was in charge of Rev. J. Burgess and Mrs. Burgess. Tuesday morning the minister didn't get here, so Doris and Linda took over and it was very nice.

The movies last week were "The Accessible Arctic", "Alexander McKenzie", "African Animals" and "Audubon and the Birds of America".

Monday night this week they were "Fiddlers of James Bay" and "Crafts of my Province".

Mrs. Jarvis is in Peterborough Hospital. We hope she will be better very soon.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mrs. George Nesbitt, who passed away.

We had the Hughes Family from Wilberforce to entertain us Tuesday afternoon. The musical family were: Wesley 14, Jonathan 13, David 11, Timothy 9, Nathan 6 and Mark 5.

Jean Taylor is on the sick list. She had her niece and daughter in for lunch on Tuesday.

The new weigh scales are working just fine (for me anyway). I lost 2 lbs. in June. All for now.

"Don't be too sorry for Mom; she don't have time to feel glum".

- submitted -

Have you visited your museum this year? If not you owe it to yourself to drop by and browse around on some of our local history. Your museum committee is most fortunate in having on display some interesting antiques that were graciously loaned by Mr. Murray Robertson of Alsaw. Not only are they unique, but he has painstakingly restored them to possibly better than their original condition; and as well he has provided in detail, a precise description of their origin and usefulness.

Perhaps I may give you an inkling on two of his gems. One is a heavy cast-iron, in-board boat engine, with a thick heavy flywheel and a large solid brass propeller.

Some time, I believe in the early "thirties", Mr. Sam Welch operated a delivery service from his General Store in Minden to Sandy and Deep Bays on Gull Lake, when he delivered groceries and other merchandise to the summer residents. He used a large cedar strip skiff and an engine almost identical to this one. Each morning his brother, Bill, would load up the boat with boxes of groceries, and the mail, for his cottage customers, and around 9 a.m. he would put down the river, through the rapids, to the mouth, where he would begin his deliveries.

Hanging by a hook to the ceiling is an unusual form of lighting; it is a carbide lantern. Carbide, which was mixed with water, formed acetylene gas, which burned very brightly from its two tips providing an intense white light much like a burning acetylene torch.

This system was used for lighting, I believe in the twenties in Hartles Store. A special tank sat out in the yard behind the store, where the gas was generated, then it was piped into the building. This was before there was hydro available and there were no cars on the village streets in the winter time.

Please remember, we still need good used items, for our "Treasure, Bake and Plant Sale" which will be held at the Municipal Parkette on Saturday, July 18. Items may be left at Mr. Dick Kirkwood's, in MacKayville; at Mr. Stan Hill's, next to the Minden House on North Water Street, after July 1, or phone John Hulbig - 286-1319, for a pick-up with his truck, of any usefull articles you have to offer. Thank you.

Hi kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, toward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that, have fun!

A: A shop lifter.

Q: What happens when the midget applied for a job?

A: He was put on the short list.

Q: How can you fit a gallon of milk into a half pint bottle?

A: They condensed it.

Q: How do you make grownups wonder what you are up to?

Please take care when you see our tame ducks crossing the street to the river. They are a pleasure for most of us to watch, so please take a moment and slow down when you see the ducks crossing the street, they're not too well versed in road safety so it's up to you drivers to make that extra minute and save the ducks.

Yvonne Guida is recovering from a nasty bout of illness which has had her down for some time. She seems to be feeling better, slowly but surely. Her son Douglas Guida, who is an executive for Lufthansa Airlines, just returned from Germany where he took a group of tourists. He was privileged to be in the company of Placido Domingo, world famous tenor. Zubin Mehta who is the Director of the New York Philharmonic, who conducted the orchestra there, and many other celebrities. He said he felt like a celebrity himself with all the photographers snapping pictures, with himself included. Domingo sang like an angel which is not surprising. It was a wonderful trip. Doug represents Lufthansa in golf in many parts of the world, and has many trophies.

Janice

In Nineteen-hundred and forty-seven
Our little daughter came down from heaven.
A cute wee baby with eyes of blue
Just what we wanted and that is true.
At first she had no one with whom to play
Till the Earls moved in our corner to stay.
Then she and Diane became good friends
And I hope this friendship never ends.
The first teacher she had was Judy J.
And they got along well I am glad to say.
At age 19 she graduated from High
Then went up to Hyland Crest to give it a try.
She has a cute voice and in the choir did sing
Till Jack Shaw came along and gave her a ring.
She worked in the Health Unit for Mrs. Appleby
And got along well as anyone could see.
So now, she is married with 2 of her own and Still she's the prettiest girl I have known.
Read by her mother Mrs. Phil Robinson on Janice's 40th.

Staanworth Court welcomes summer and new resident

What is more wonderful than a day in June? --- those in July and August enjoying visits with family and friends. Right?

We welcome a new resident in our midst, namely, Dolly Ashford. Do hope she enjoys our lovely apartments and friends.

Mary and Albert Stata recently visited with their son and wife in their new home in Courtice, Ontario.

Melissa Hampson enjoyed a visit with her family at Port McNicol, Ont.

Len and Mabel Trodd visited with their son and family at Burlington. While there they attended the graduation of their son who added another degree to his teaching qualifications.

Carrie and Mark Vasev had a very enjoyable visit with Mark's sister, Mrs. B. Flynn from Burlington, Ont.

Marie Gates spent the weekend with Mary and Albert Stata. She also visited with many residents.

Corinne and Hector Arsenault, our custodians, spent a few days with relatives in Montreal. While there they visited with Hector's brother Paul, who is a priest and music co-ordinator at the Shrine of Notre Dame du Cap. From a pamphlet, edited by Paul, I read that the huge stones needed in the building of this Shrine were transported across the usually open St. Lawrence River in March on ice floes bridged together. This ordeal was surely an inspiration for those determined parishoners, and goes to prove to any evangelist, that where there is a will to do God's work. He will provide a way. I believe. Don't you?

Four of our lady residents enjoyed a trip by bus to Perth recently. While there Janet, Eleanor F., Mabel, and Melissa visited the Kitten Woollen Mills. (This bus was sponsored by the Women's Institute of Minden).

Jean and Art Marsh have just returned from an enjoyable trip to the East coast. Their trip took them through the province of New Brunswick, into Nova Scotia, where Jean visited with her sister at Yarmouth. Thence across the Canso Strait up the noted Cabot Trail, which rises to over one thousand feet above and along the seashore. During this part of the trip they were completely enveloped in dense fog, and near the top of Old Smokey Mt. they had no option but to hope for clear skies farther on, which did happen. No doubt this would cause some anxiety. They proceeded to beautiful Prince Edward Island, and from there, by ferry, to Newfoundland, which took from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. over choppy waters to a safe landing. After driving around this island, so steeped in history, (having one of the oldest cities in North America, St. John's), they returned by ferry over smoother seas to mainland. There they drove to the famous Magnetic Hill in New Brunswick. This, to me, was a highlight of their trip. For here Jean decided to prove, to herself, that the magnetic effect on vehicles was true. So she coasted down that hill to the other side hill, turned her car around, coasted to the foot of the magnetic hill, turned off the motor, geared to neutral, and sure enough her car was pulled up the full length of the hill to the top. Proof enough, thought Jean, as she and Art proceeded many more miles and a few days to reach their destination. Staathworth Court Apartments. We are glad to see them and that they found their trip so interesting.

We are glad to see Henry Howe back from surgery in St. Joseph's Hospital, in Peterborough. While he was in hospital Vera stayed with their daughter, Mary, in Cavan to be able to visit the hospital. Keep well Henry, we all wish you a speedy recovery.

Our Craft and Bake Sale was indeed a success. Much credit goes to our craft convenor, Holly Cooper, and her committee, for the interesting display of articles, the quality and variety of the articles, and they thank all of you who patronized the sale. As I came away I could not reflect, "Even a clock passes the time by keeping its hands busy."

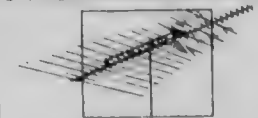

We look forward to the Wednesday evenings' barbeques among our folks. Len Trodd has volunteered to be Chef, or Chief Barbequer (Is there such a word?) However, stay with us, Len.

And now before these write-ups give failure a bad name, I have something of interest to me. Have a safe and enjoyable summer, everyone. To our young people, "Do not let the crowds pressure you. Stand for something, -- or you'll fall for anything," we love you, have a beautiful summer.

May God bless us until later. --MH.

Plans underway for flower show

by Illa Cooper

Just imagine! It is July! How is your garden growing? With all the very warm weather and the much needed rain, gardens should be doing very well. And what is new in your garden this year?

Show time is fast approaching. That's when we see all the prize flowers, fruit and vegetables, the results of our labour. Our Flower Show and the Fair are our local places of competition.

Credit must be given to those people who take time out of their busy schedules to prepare entries for these events. Then to take them to the place of show making sure they are in the proper spaces. The gathering up and taking them home after.

So often, when at a show you hear the remark "Oh, I have better than that at home". You say to yourself "then why isn't it here?" Time and enthusiasm is the answer! Yes it takes time and patience and a desire for competition and interest in community efforts. So let's get into the competition and let others see what grows behind your fence!

Plans are well under way for the Minden and District Horticultural Flower Show - theme "Floral Isles" - for August 6 and 7. The special arrangements will be interesting as they will be named for islands (i.e.)

Canary, Manitoulin, Iceland, Newfoundland, etc. This requires imagination - and we are already wondering about one of the men's categories - the "Isle of Man" - what will that reveal?

Behind the Flower Shows is planning, cultivating, planting, weeding, fertilizing and watering.

There are several methods of gardening. One that is coming very much to the forefront is Organic Gardening. To find out all about this come to the Horticulture meeting on Tuesday, July 7 at 7:30 p.m. and you will hear Mrs. Mary Perlmutter speak about this and she will have films for illustration. She is a super speaker and is certainly steeped in this field. Do come!

She will show you what ought to be done with kitchen refuse, besides the materials obtained from lawn and garden. She has the answers for good growth without buying fertilizers - combatting insects etc. from materials found in your own garden, etc. It's all so very interesting!

Some of our members have already seen and heard Mary - and that's why we bring her here - she's great!

So keep this date in mind, it will be a very worthwhile evening! No admission.

Horticulturists have all the planting done in the flower beds in our area. The Juniors have done an excellent job in planting the tubs in the village. All this work is done without pay, just the satisfaction of planting in order to beautify our surroundings.

I am sure all those who attended last month's meeting were very pleased to hear

Ian MacNab tell about the Conservation of Wetlands and his films were excellent. I am sure since then, that every time we see swamp land, marshes, etc. our minds return at once to the things we heard and saw at our June meeting.

Good gardening - and be "show minded!"

BIRTHS

SHARPLESS: Tim and Kim are pleased to announce the safe arrival of their daughter

TRACEY CHRISTINE on June 3, 1987 at Peterborough Civic Hospital. Weighing 6 lb., 4 1/2 oz. Proud grandparents Bill and Bea Everson and Gordon and Lorena Sharpless. Special thanks to Dr. Good, Haliburton Hospital Nurses, Bob English and Gerald Wood.

WELCH: Elli and John are happy and thankful to announce the safe arrival of their baby daughter

REBECCA ANN born at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall, June 20, 1987. A granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Reg Welch of Minden and Mr. William Striegl of Edmonton, Alberta.

CARD OF THANKS

I should like to thank the volunteers of the Stanhope Fire Department for responding so quickly to the fire at my home. Also a thank you to my family for their help and support at this time.

David Caldwell

Sincere thanks to friends for their caring phone calls, sympathy cards and donations to charities, on the loss of a dear husband and father. To the wonderful V.O.N. nurses and ambulance drivers, a mere "thank you" seems very trite for all they did, willingly, and with thoughtfulness. Thank you to the Monk Funeral Home for making a trying time so much easier; and to Dr. Steven Dawson for all his aid and comfort. Bless you all.

Mary Colman & Family

STAMP: Sidney (Sid) - In loving memory of a dear husband, and father who passed away July 11, 1985.

I remember the day I met you

And I will till the end of time

This one thing has made me glad
That you chose me to share with you
Those wonderful two years we had
No morning dawns, no night returns
But that I think of you.

Sadly missed by wife Elsie, Children Gregory, Vincent and Step Children Bart, Valerie and John.
